

Oceania Regional Conservation Forum

Unite for Nature: Building a Resilient Oceania for Nature and People

16-19 September, 2024

Suva, Fiji

At the Oceania Regional Conservation Forum (ORCF) you will:

- Discuss and Debate Conservation Challenges: Engage with experts and peers to address the pressing conservation issues specific to Oceania.
- Shape the Future of Conservation: Learn about IUCN's programme of work for 2025-2029/30 and contribute to its development.
- Prepare for the IUCN World Conservation Congress 2025: Get ready for the world's largest conservation event, taking place in Abu Dhabi in October 2025.

Held every four years, the IUCN Regional Conservation Forum (RCF) is one of the leading platforms for sharing knowledge, building partnerships, and connecting key stakeholders in nature and biodiversity conservation from different regions.

Attending the ORCF offers several benefits, including:

- Opportunities to meet decision-makers and influential leaders in environmental conservation.
- The chance to contribute to the decision-making process on key conservation issues.
- Development of new partnerships and collaborations.
- Exclusive access to IUCN's resources and data.
- Participation in Member-only sessions, including preparation for the World Conservation Congress 2025.

The ORCF is open to:

- IUCN Members.
- Representatives from governmental and non-governmental organisations.
- Indigenous groups.
- Academic and research institutions.
- Private sector stakeholders.
- Other interested parties involved in environmental conservation and sustainability in Oceania.
- Youth Reps & Women Representatives & Civil Society Groups

The programme for the ORCF will include:

- Plenary discussions and open consultative dialogues including keynote speeches by prominent environmental leaders.
- Panel discussion on pressing conservation issues.
- Workshops and training sessions as side events and pre-conference events.
- Networking events to foster collaboration among participants.
- Member-only sessions focusing on preparation for the World Conservation Congress 2025. A detailed programme will be released closer to the event date.
